

ALLAN'S ART A LA CARTE

His wife Alla may be the public face of Lake House, but artist Allan Wolf-Tasker is the man behind the outstanding artworks that adorn the walls of the celebrated hotel and restaurant in Daylesford.

Big, colourful, optimistic and joyful, Allan's magnificent paintings are iconic in their portrayal of wining, dining and entertaining and are a celebration of the good things in life.

In a career spanning three decades, Allan has drawn inspiration from many different fields – drought-affected landscapes, ancient buildings and still life – but over the past decade he has found much of his inspiration in the daily workings of the business.

'My Hospitality series is inspired by the intimate nature of hospitality; by the people who step into our journey here at Lake House. They are the key elements of everything I've done over the past 10 years,' Allan says.
